Maurizio Romanin, Chairman of the Board of Attorneys Title Guaranty Fund, Inc. (ATGF) of Denver, Colorado, is pleased to announce Eric R. Morgan as the company's new President, effective February 1, 2011. Mr. Morgan will replace Christopher J. Condie, outgoing ATGF President.

"We are confident the transition from Chris Condie to Eric Morgan will go very smoothly, as the two have worked together on previous occasions," said Maurizio Romanin. "While this is a time to look forward, we are also appreciative of everything Chris has meant for ATGF."

A strong track record of entrepreneurship and a firm understanding of issues facing the title insurance industry were important factors in the hiring of Mr. Morgan. "ATGF is in great hands. Eric's fresh ideas and perspective will definitely benefit the organization," said Maurizio Romanin. "With Eric as president, we are well positioned for future growth in Colorado, Utah, Minnesota, North Dakota and beyond."

Christopher Condie joined ATGF in 1994 and was appointed President in 1995. "I will sincerely miss my association with ATGF, its directors, shareholders, employees and agents. It has truly been a blessing for me to be associated with ATGF for these past 17 years," said Mr. Condie, who will be moving from Colorado to join another title insurer.
